CHINESE GIRL'S TRIBUTE.

Sends "$1, Thank You," to Add to Titanic Memorial Fund.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The Woman's Titanic Memorial, formed to honor the men who died to save women and children, has become one of the biggest institutions in Washington not connected with the Government service. The employes occupy two suites in the Union Trust Building, and are kept busy eight hours a day acknowledging contributions and tabulating receipts.

This mass of routine work is handled at top speed, but, fast as it is handled, the girl operators from time to time every day stop long enough to toss aside some communication that is a study in human interest. One of these arrived yesterday. It was written by a twelve-year-old Chinese girl who worked in a tea garden in San Francisco. It says:

Dear Woman's Titanic Memorial:

I thought this was women's work, so I send a dollar. I am a little Chinese girl-Ah Ying. Ying is Chinese for eagle. Twelve years old. I go to school during the day and serve tea in a garden in the evening. I earned and worked for that dollar as a memorial to Capt. Smith. He went down, holding a little child. Thank you. Yours truly, AH YING.

Another communication received the same day was from twenty-two little girls in the Orphans' Home at Milford, Conn. They sent a contribution to the fund, accompanied by a simple little note saying it was money that they had earned themselves.

When the great arch embodying women's tribute to the bravery of men is erected in the National Capital, at least a small part of the monument will represent the savings of many little girls, most of whom are poor.

The New York Times

Published: July 8, 1912 Copyright © The New York Times